The Department of Comparative Cultural Studies at NAU seeks to hire an assistant professor with expertise in Native American cultures that corresponds to one of the department’s disciplines: Art History, Humanities, Museum Studies, or Religious Studies.

The successful candidate will offer courses in their specialty and contribute to the mission of NAU’s new General Studies Program, which includes courses in Indigenous Peoples, US Ethnic Diversity, and American Institutions. In addition, the successful candidate should be prepared to make contributions to diversity and inclusion within the department and the College of Arts & Letters. Northern Arizona University is a Hispanic-Serving Institution that values cultural and intellectual diversity and strives to become the nation’s leading university serving Native Americans.

Minimum Qualifications: PhD conferred by appointment date in one of the following fields: Art History, Museum Studies, Religious Studies, or any Humanities discipline (Comparative Literature, English, History, etc.)
